EDUCATION

Liberty Union-Thurston Elementary School

1001 South Main Street
Baltimore, OH 43105
(740) 862-4143
Kelli Brownfield, Principal

A major renovation and addition project is currently underway to upgrade the elementary facility, which was originally constructed in 1977. The elementary school serves students in grades pre-k through fourth grade, with a current enrollment of 540. Many elementary school staff members have recently received training in Balridge Quality Practices. Implementation of Balridge practices is one aspect of the continuous improvement emphasis at Liberty Union.

Elementary school academic instruction is enhanced through Title 1, Reading Recovery, OhioReads, special education and gifted programs. Recent acquisition of distance learning equipment, through grant funding, provides expanded learning opportunities for students.

An active elementary booster organization assists with fund raising events to finance student reward and incentive programs, as well as additional teacher-requested classroom materials.

Liberty Union-Thurston Middle School

600 Washington Street
Baltimore, OH 43105
(740) 862-4126
Hank Gavarkavich, Principal

Students in grades five through eight attend the middle school, which has an enrollment of 450. Students are housed in a building that, until 1988, was used for the high school students. In 2002, through an Ohio Facilities Commission Program, voters approved a bond issue which will provide funding for a new middle school.

Grade five students are organized by homerooms, work with two "partner teachers" for instruction in four subjects, and are ability-grouped for mathematics classes. Instruction for students in grades six through eight is accomplished through a departmental approach. Students follow a schedule of classes, forty minutes in length, as they rotate among teachers in a cache academic subject area.

Expectations for students work ethic, behavior and responsibility are high, as is parent expectations for academic achievement. These factors play an important role in creating the learning environment necessary for academic success. The level of achievement on statewide academic assessments is very good, and can be viewed on the district website.

A gifted teacher works with classroom teachers to develop challenging activities for identified students, and organizes enrichment activities for a larger base of students. With assistance from the gifted teacher, Liberty Union students have established a strong presence with their participation in the Junior Model United Nations Program. This program provides excellent leadership and team-building opportunities for students in grades six through eight.

An important objective in the middle school is to provide students a solid foundation in technology skills, and integrated technology experiences in the classroom. Staff and students have access to two computer labs, as well as additional laptop computers for use in the classrooms. Grant funding has enabled the middle school to obtain distance learning equipment, allowing direct, two-way interaction with sites outside the district

Mark Fullen, Principal

Chet Coleman, Assistant Principal

Liberty Union High School is a four year comprehensive school, offering general, college-preparatory and vocational programs. Current enrollment of students in grades nine through twelve is 435. The high school building was constructed in 1988.

Through a partnership with Eastland Career and Technical Schools, an information technology program has been implemented into the curriculum for all students in grade ten. Also, a Tech-Prep program provides specialized integrated instruction for students selecting this science and agriculture course sequence.

Accelerated programs in English, science and mathematics, as well as advanced-placement courses in science and social studies are available to challenge top academic universities for high school or college credit. Special education students receive assistance through tutoring, resource room and/or classroom inclusion settings. Individual Education Plans are established to provide the most appropriate assistance for each qualifying student.

The guidance program emphasizes student career planning. An increasing number of junior and senior students are taking advantage of programs through the Eastland Career and Technical Schools, with programs designed to prepare students for school-to-work or for college.

Rewards and incentives for high school students are provided through the Renaissance Program. This is made possible through many business and community donations, as well as the efforts of Renaissance committee members.

A high percentage of students participate in extracurricular and co-curricular programs. High school students have opportunities to participate in music, sports, clubs, and vocational leadership programs.

Paul E. Mathews, Superintendent

Liberty Union-Thurston has earned the Ohio State Department of Education's highest ranking, as an "EXCELLENT" school district in 2002 and 2003. The 2003 district report card shows L-U-T to be meeting or exceeding State Department benchmarks in each of twenty two evaluation areas.

Board of Education members, staff, parents, business and community members work cooperatively through a strategic planning process to establish district goals, and to evaluate their effectiveness.

The Ed Sands Memorial Land Laboratory provides opportunity for special activities for students at all levels, as well as community members. The land lab is located behind the elementary school.

School information can be accessed through the district website: www.libertyunion.org
